Just a reminder: teachers are not just teaching through a pandemic. Teachers are teaching through their own trauma. They are teaching through their own loss. They are teaching through their own anxiety and depression. And teachers do this everyday.... global pandemic or not.

The U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) is building a series of cultural centers and service centers. We invite you to speak with a Community Relations Officer and get your immigration questions answered. In these sessions, you'll have an opportunity to get answers on how to file for immigration benefits, what to expect at an interview, how to prepare for coming to your appointments, and other general immigration-related questions.

We invite guest speakers to address topics that will benefit our students.
